Taiwan is located at the hub of Asia Pacific. Not only has Taiwan excellent geographic content and transportation network, but also Taiwan is equipped with outstanding R&D and production capabilities.

Established in 1948, TEEMA, the Taiwan Electrical and Electronic Manufacturers' Association dedicates itself to providing its members with globally diversified services, promoting common interest, acting as a bridge between the government and the industry; and aims to promote economic development. Our teams are committed to pursuing excellence, providing quality, immediate and comprehensive services; assisting members to achieve sustainable development, creating added-value for members and becoming the Association with the highest satisfaction of member.

With the fierce competition of global enterprises in the international market, it is inevitable for Taiwan enterprises to develop and survive through the "Creative Collaboration Cooperation Commerce Model". TEEMA has created a "Creative Collaboration Commerce Service Platform" to help manufacturers find professional partners, jointly research and develop, innovate and integrate technical resources, and enter into the globally creative application markets together. TEEMA will also assist manufacturers in winning the subsidiary opportunities from government's Forward-Looking Infrastructure Development Program; and the Creative Collaboration Commerce Center Committee of TEEMA will organize a "Creative Collaboration Commerce Team" in association with the elites in respective sector of industry, government, university and institute to establish the "AMIT System Service Ltd." and the " Union Storage Energy System Ltd.", encourage the joint ventures for many manufacturers to conduct key and common technology research and development plus the integration of upstream, midstream and downstream technology and the integration of cross-domain technology; prepare the industrial common standards, protocols or common platforms, and establish applications and services with technological know-how, innovate the operation and marketing models in order to enhance the added value of creative industry chains and create the creative collaboration commerce model for Taiwan's electrical and electronic products.

In order to serve and market the excellent and outstanding Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) in Taiwan, the Creative Collaboration Commerce Center Committee of TEEMA has published the Taiwan Outstanding SME every year since 2014; and the products characterized with leading innovation and excellence have been collected, chosen and compiled in its 2022-2023 Edition in a form of e-book and manual mainly focusing on four industries: Electronics Parts, AIOT, Consumer Electronics and other relevant electrical and electronic products; TEEMA will promote them through the shows, exhibitions and internet marketing channels all around the world for foreign enterprises to better understand the outstanding products made in Taiwan, facilitate the cooperation and investment of product R&D, establish the partnership or strategic alliances among enterprises, and create a new business opportunity of foreign trade for electrical and electronic industry in Taiwan
